

Projekt/Site Manager for Industrial Plants

In this function you are responsible for the professional management of projects and/or construction sites. In addition to the necessary project and work specifications, you will create an efficient schedule for your preparatory work and form a powerful organizational structure. You are able to define, evaluate and coordinate technical and economic measures. You will support the client in an advisory capacity and implement decisions in the project plan. You are an integral part of the exchange of information with the client's specialist departments. You monitor the planned activities and ensure that they are carried out professionally and on time, taking into account the applicable quality and safety standards. You ensure a smooth flow of information and guarantee clean documentation throughout the project phases.

You have completed training as a technician HF, engineer FH or technical basic training with additional training in the fields of mechanical engineering and process engineering. You are familiar with at least one area of combustion technologies, wastewater treatment, or energy systems. You have an entrepreneurial flair, communicate openly and skillfully in an intercultural environment. You are used to working independently and are not afraid to tackle things yourself. You will spend around half of your working hours on-site at the facilities. You maintain a secure handling of MS Project and MS Office programs.

A wide-ranging and challenging job awaits you in a respectful, collegial environment, in which you are constantly confronted with the latest technological developments in the industry. As a socially and technically competent team player, you can contribute to the business development of Juffern AG. Fair and market-compliant employment conditions are a matter of course for us. By the way: If you want to optimize your life balance, an annual working time of 80% is also possible.
